Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from Construction and Manufacture of Automobiles The following description of a 40 H. P. automobile, built by the Stevens-Duryea Company, of Chicopee Falls, Mass., may, except for certain important details which will be specifically mentioned, be taken as typical of the design of high-grade cars in general. In Fig. 1 is shown a side view of the Model Y, 40 horsepower, six-cylinder machine, with 36-inch wheels and 142-inch wheel-base. An automobile may be divided into two parts - the body and the chassis. The former is the product of the carriage-maker's art, the latter of the mechanic's and engineer's. The chassis of this machine is shown in Figs. 2 and 3, to which reference will now be made. The mechanism and body of the car are supported by a frame whose side members, of chrome-nickel steel, are shown at A. These are connected by four cross pieces, and are supported on the front and rear axles by the spring connections shown. The cross pieces are also pressed from chrome-nickel steel, and are hydraulically riveted to the side frames.
